18. Penalties to be proportioned to offenses; true design of punishment.
19. Searches and seizures regulated.
20. Trial by jury in civil causes; exceptions.

* The side notes indicate the decisions of the supreme court.

All amendments are shown by notes at the bottom of the page indicating the year in which they took effect. The amendments of 1792, "so far as relates to the choice of the members of the legislature and the executive officers of the state, county treasurer and recorder of deeds," took effect on February 1, 1793, and all others on the first Wednesday of June, 1793.

The amendments of 1850 took effect September 16, 1852; those of 1876, August 1, 1877, October 1, 1878, and the first Wednesday of June, 1879, as indicated in the foot notes; those of 1889, April 2, 1889; those of 1902 on March 26, 1903; and those of 1912 on November 20, 1912.

The numbering of the sections of Part II first appeared in the Revised Statutes of 1842. In 1889, when the tenth section of Part II was stricken out, all subse uent sections were moved forward, with the result of making much confusion in citations. In this copy the former numbering has been placed in parenthesis at the side of the present number.

PART FIRST

BILL OF RIGHTS.

ARTICLE 1ST. All men are born equally free and independent; therefore, all government of right originates from the people, is founded in consent, and instituted for the general good.

Equality of men; origin and object of government. liii, 212. lxv, 113.

[ART.] *2d. All men have certain natural, essential, and inherent rights, among which are the enjoying and defending life and liberty, acquiring, possessing, and protecting property, and, in a word, of seeking and obtaining happiness.

Natural rights. liii, 9; 398. liv, 117; 590. lxv, 103. lxvii, 59. lxxii, 95. lxxiii, 33; 34. lxxv, 31. lxxvii, 581.

[ART.] 3d. When men enter into a state of society, they surrender up some of their natural rights to that society, in order to insure the protection of others; and, without such an equivalent, the surrender is void.

Society, its organization and purposes. liii, 9. lxxi, 555.

[ART.] 4th. Among the natural rights, some are in their very nature unalienable, because no equivalent can be given or received for them. Of this kind are the rights of conscience.

Rights of conscience unalienable. liii, 9. lix, 225.

[ART.] 5th. Every individual has a natural and unalienable right to worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience and reason; and no subject shall be hurt, molested, or restrained, in his person, liberty, or estate, for worshipping God in the manner and season most agreeable to the dictates of his own conscience, or for his religious profession, sentiments, or persuasion, provided he doth not disturb the public peace or disturb others in their religious worship.

Religious freedom recognized. liii, 9. lviii, 240. lix, 225. lxiv, 48. lxix, 381. lxxvi, 420.

[ART.] 6th. As morality and piety, rightly grounded on evangelical principles, will give the best and greatest security to government, and will lay in the hearts of men the strongest obligations to due subjection, and as the knowledge of these is Public worship of the Deity to be encouraged. liii, 9. lxvi, 230. lxxv, 424; 562. lxxvi, 408.

*First inserted in this and following articles of Bill of Rights in General Statutes, 1867.

most likely to be propagated through a society by the institution of the public worship of the Deity and of public instruction in morality and religion, therefore to promote those important purposes, the people of this state have a right to empower, and do hereby fully empower, the legislature to authorize, from time to time, the several towns, parishes, bodies corporate, or religious societies within this state to make adequate provision, at their own expense, for the support and maintenance of public Protestant teachers of piety, religion, and morality.

Right of electing religious teachers.
Sm., 1.
liii, 9; 138.
lvi, 508.
lxvi, 230.

Provided, notwithstanding, that the several towns, parishes, bodies corporate, or religious societies shall at all times have the exclusive right of electing their own public teachers and of contracting with them for their support and maintenance. And no person of any one particular religious sect or denomination shall be compelled to pay towards the support of the teacher or teachers of another persuasion, sect, or denomination.

Free toleration.
liii, 9.

And every denomination of Christians, demeaning themselves quietly and as good subjects of the state, shall be equally under the protection of the law; and no subordination of any one sect or denomination to another shall ever be established by law.

Existing contracts not affected.

And nothing herein shall be understood to affect any former contracts made for the support of the ministry; but all such contracts shall remain and be in the same state as if this constitution had not been made.

State sovereignty.
lxvi, 369.

[ART.] 7th. The people of this state have the sole and exclusive right of governing themselves as a free, sovereign, and independent state, and do, and forever hereafter shall, exercise and enjoy every power, jurisdiction, and right pertaining thereto which is not or may not hereafter be by them expressly delegated to the United States of America in congress assembled.

[ART.] 8th. All power residing originally in, and being derived from, the people, all the magistrates and officers of government are their substitutes and agents and at all times accountable to them.

Accountability of magistrates and officers. lxvi, 369. lxvii, 49.

[ART.] 9th. No office or place whatsoever in government shall be hereditary, the abilities and integrity requisite in all not being transmissible to posterity or relations.

No hereditary office or place.

[ART.] 10th. Government being instituted for the common benefit, protection, and security of the whole community, and not for the private interest or emolument of any one man, family, or class of men, therefore, whenever the ends of government are perverted and public liberty manifestly endangered and all other means of redress are ineffectual, the people may, and of right ought to, reform the old or establish a new government. The doctrine of nonresistance against arbitrary power and oppression is absurd, slavish, and destructive of the good and happiness of mankind.

Right of revolution. lii, 592. lxv, 113.

[ART.] 11th. All elections ought to be free; and every inhabitant of the state, having the proper qualifications, has equal right to elect and be elected into office; [but no person shall have the right to vote, or be eligible to office under the constitution of this state, who shall not be able to read the constitution in the English language, and to write; provided, however, that this provision shall not apply to any person prevented by a physical disability from complying with its requisitions, nor to any person who now has the right to vote, nor to any person who shall be sixty years of age or upwards on the first day of January A. D. 1904,]* [and provided further, that no person shall have the right to vote or be eligible to office under the constitution of this state who shall have been convicted of treason, bribery, or any wilful violation of the election laws

Conscientiously
scrupulous, not compellable to bear arms

[ART.] 12th. Every member of the community has a right to be protected by it in the enjoyment of his life, liberty, and property. He is, therefore, bound to contribute his share in the expense of such protection, and to yield his personal service, when necessary, or an equivalent. But no part of a man's property shall be taken from him or applied to public uses without his own consent or that of the representative body of the people. Nor are the inhabitants of this state controllable by any other laws than those to which they or their representative body have given their consent.

[ART.] 13th. No person who is conscientiously scrupulous about the lawfulness of bearing arms shall be compelled thereto, provided he will pay an equivalent.

Legal remedies to be free, complete,
and prompt.
xxv, 539, 540.
lxi, 610. lxx, 113.
lxxvii, 308.

[ART.] 14th. Every subject of this state is entitled to a certain remedy, by having recourse to the laws, for all injuries he may receive in his person, property, or character, to obtain right and justice freely, without being obliged to purchase it; completely and without any denial; promptly and without delay; conformably to the laws.

[ART.] 15th. No subject shall be held to answer for any crime or offense until the same is fully and plainly, substantially and formally, described to him, or be compelled to accuse or furnish evidence against himself. And every subject shall have a right to produce all proofs that may be favorable to himself, to meet the witnesses against him face to face, and to be fully heard in his defense by himself, and counsel. And no subject shall be arrested, imprisoned, despoiled, or deprived of his property, immunities, or privileges, put out of the protection of the law, exiled, or deprived of his life, liberty, or estate, but by the judgment of his peers or the law of the land.

[ART.] 16th. No subject shall be liable to be tried, after an acquittal, for the same crime or offense; nor shall the legislature make any law that shall subject any person to a capital punishment (excepting for the government of the army and navy, and the militia in actual service) without trial by jury.

[ART.] 17th. In criminal prosecutions, the trial of facts in the vicinity where they happened is so essential to the security of the life, liberty, and estate of the citizen, that no crime or offense ought to be tried in any other county than that in which it is committed, except in cases of general insurrection in any particular county, when it shall appear to the judges of the superior court that an impartial trial cannot be had in the county where the offense may be committed, and, upon their report, the [legislature]* shall think proper to direct the trial in the nearest county in which an impartial trial can be obtained.

[ART.] 18th. All penalties ought to be proportioned to the nature of the offense. No wise legislature will affix the same punishment to the crimes of theft, forgery, and the like, which they do to those of murder and treason. Where the same undistinguishing severity is exerted against all offenses, the people are led to forget the real distinction in the crimes themselves and to commit the most flagrant with as little compunction as they do† the lightest [offenses].‡ For the same reason, a multitude of sanguinary laws is both impolitic and

[ART.] 19th. * [Every subject hath a right to be secure from all unreasonable searches and seizures of his person, his houses, his papers, and all his possessions. Therefore, all warrants to search suspected places or arrest a person for examination or trial, in prosecutions for criminal matters, are contrary to this right, if the cause or foundation of them be not previously supported by oath or affirmation, and if the order, in a warrant to a civil officer, to make search in suspected places or to arrest one or more suspected persons or to seize their property, be not accompanied with a special designation of the persons or objects of search, arrest, or seizure; and no warrant ought to be issued but in cases and with the formalities prescribed by law.]

[ART.] 20th. In all controversies concerning property and in all suits between two or more persons, except in cases in which it has been heretofore otherwise used and practiced [and except in cases in which the value in controversy does not exceed one hundred dollars and title of real estate is not concerned]† the parties have a right to a trial by jury; and this method of procedure shall be held sacred, unless, in cases arising on the high seas and such as relates to mariners' wages, the legislature shall think it necessary hereafter to alter it.

[ART.] 21st. In order to reap the fullest advantage of the inestimable privilege of the trial by jury, great care ought to be taken that none but qualified persons should be appointed to serve; and such ought to [be]‡ fully compensated for their travel, time, and attendance.

[ART.] 22d. The liberty of the press is essential to the security of freedom in a state; it ought, therefore, to be inviolably preserved.

[ART.] 24th. A well regulated militia is the proper, natural, and sure defense of a state.

Militia.

[ART.] 25th. Standing armies are dangerous to liberty, and ought not to be raised or kept up without the consent of the legislature.

Standing armies.

[ART.] 26th. In all cases and at all times, the military ought to be under strict subordination to, and governed by, the civil power.

Military, subject to civil power.

[ART.] 27th. No soldier, in time of peace, shall be quartered in any house without the consent of the owner; and, in time of war, such quarters ought not to be made but by the civil magistrate, in a manner ordained by the legislature.

Quartering of soldiers.

[ART.] 28th. No subsidy, charge, tax, impost or duty shall be established, fixed, laid, or levied under any pretext whatsoever, without the consent of the people or their representatives in the legislature, or authority derived from that body.

Taxes to be levied only by the people or legislature. xiv, 98. lxxiv, 528; 536; 539. lxxvi, 611.

[ART.] 35th. [It is essential to the preservation of the rights of every individual, his life, liberty, property, and character, that there be an impartial interpretation of the laws and administration of justice. It is the right of every citizen to be tried by judges as impartial as the lot of humanity will admit. It is, therefore, not only the best policy, but for the security of the rights of the people, that the judges of the supreme judicial court should hold their offices so long as they behave well, subject, however, to such limitations on account of age as may be provided by the constitution of the state, and that they should have honorable salaries, ascertained and established by standing laws.]*

Pensions.

[ART.] 36th. Economy being a most essential virtue in all states, especially in a young one, no pension shall be granted but in consideration of actual services; and such pensions ought to be granted with great caution by the legislature, and never for more than one year at a time.

separate from, and independent of, each other as the nature of a free government will admit or as is consistent with that chain of connection that binds the whole fabric of the constitution in one indissoluble bond of union and amity.

[ART.] 38th. A frequent recurrence to the fundamental principles of the constitution and a constant adherence to justice, moderation, temperance, industry, frugality, and all the social virtues, are indispensably necessary to preserve the blessings of liberty and good government. The people ought, therefore, to have a particular regard to all those principles in the choice of their officers and representatives; and they have a right to require of their law-givers and magistrates an exact and constant observance of them in the formation and execution of the laws necessary for the good administration of government.

Constitutional Convention, 1918-1923

The tenth Convention to Revise the Constitution, approved by the voters in the November, 1916, election, held four sessions and submitted for ratification by the voters twelve proposed amendments, all of which failed of adoption. Several of the questions had a majority in favor, but none had the necessary two-thirds affirmative vote.

The convention met in the first session in the State House, Wednesday, June 5, 1918. Former Congressman Hosea W. Parker of Claremont was elected temporary president, and Albert O. Brown of Manchester, then chairman of the State Tax Commission and later Governor, was elected President, serving throughout the life of the convention. Several resolutions were introduced, but on the third day the convention adjourned to reassemble not later than a year after the War.

The second session of the convention opened January 13, 1920. Forty resolutions, including those introduced at the first session, were considered. More than one-half of these related to taxation, reorganization of the Legislature, and to new methods of submitting amendments to the constitution. The convention voted to submit seven proposed amendments to the constitution, and adjourned January 29, 1920.

The proposed amendments were voted upon at the biennial election November 2, 1920, and rejected, as follows. (Two-thirds affirmative vote necessary for ratification).

FIRST VOTE ON AMENDMENTS.

QUESTION 1.

Do you approve of empowering the legislature to impose and levy taxes on incomes, which taxes may be classified, graduated and progressive, with reasonable exemptions?—

Yes, 49,018. No, 32,173.

QUESTION 2.

Do you approve of providing in terms that taxes on property when passing by will or inheritance may be classified, graduated and progressive, and with reasonable exemptions?—

Yes, 47,947. No, 25,681.

QUESTION 3.

Do you approve of giving the Governor authority to approve or disapprove any separate appropriation contained in any bill or resolution?—

Yes, 48,063. No, 27,833.

QUESTION 4.

Do you approve of providing that the whole number of members in the House of Representatives shall not be less than 300, nor more than 325; that representation shall be in proportion to the average total number of ballots cast in presidential elections, the legislature to make the apportionment of representatives at definite periods; and of providing that there shall be required for each representative additional to the first, three times the number of ballots required for one representative, with a proviso that a town, ward or place which has cast less than the number of ballots required to entitle it to a representative all of the time may send a representative a proportionate part of the time?—

Yes, 51,441. No, 29,639.

QUESTION 5.

Do you approve of amending the Bill of Rights by striking out the provision that no person who is conscientiously scrupulous about the lawfulness of bearing arms shall be compelled thereto provided he will pay an equivalent?—

Yes, 37,873. No, 33,567.

QUESTION 6.

Do you approve of amending the Bill of Rights by striking out the words "rightly grounded on evangelical principles" after the words "As morality and piety," and striking out the word "Protestant" before the words "teachers of piety, religion and morality?"—

Yes, 37,100. No, 44,750.

QUESTION 7.

Do you approve of amending the Bill of Rights by striking out the provision that pensions shall not be granted for more than one year at a time?—

Yes, 47,054. No, 33,796.

Governor Albert O. Brown, in his capacity as president of the convention, reassembled the delegates on January 29, 1921, after the Legislature then in session had provided funds for the session. The convention voted to resubmit the first two proposed amendments which had been rejected in November, 1920, and to resubmit the fourth proposed amendment, (also rejected) in different form, and to propose another designed to bring the State Constitution into conformity with the Federal Constitution after the adoption of the Nineteenth amendment. These were all rejected, the vote being as follows:

SECOND VOTE ON AMENDMENTS.

QUESTION 1.

Do you approve of empowering the legislature to impose and levy taxes on incomes which taxes may be classified, graduated and progressive, with reasonable exemptions?

Yes, 21,440. No, 33,819.

QUESTION 2.

Do you approve of providing in terms that taxes on property when passing by will or inheritance may be classified, graduated and progressive, and with reasonable exemptions?

Yes, 23,354. No, 29,473.

QUESTION 3.

Do you approve of providing that the whole number of members in the House of Representatives shall not be less than three hundred nor more than three hundred and twenty-five; that representation shall be in proportion to the population, the legislature to make the apportionment of representatives at the session following each federal census; and of providing that there shall be required for each representative additional to the first three times the number of inhabitants required for one representative, with the proviso that a town or ward which has less than the number of inhabitants required to entitle it to a representative all of the time may send a representative a proportionate part of the time?

Yes, 30,275. No, 23,271.

QUESTION 4.

Do you approve of striking out the word male in Article 27 relating to the qualification for voting; and of providing that women may hold office?

Yes, 30,285. No, 24,142.

The Legislature of 1923, having under consideration various measures relating to changes in the taxation Laws, concerning which there was question of constitutionality, adopted a resolution requesting that the Convention be reassembled and that another effort should be made to so amend the constitution that the Legislature would have broader power to enact taxation legislation.

The Convention met for the fourth and final session on February 16, 1923. The action was limited to the submission of one amendment, to be voted on at the following March meetings in the towns and at special elections in the cities on the same day. The question submitted and the vote follows:

QUESTION.

Do you approve of empowering the Legislature to impose and levy assessments, rates and taxes, for the public charge of government with no restrictions except that they be reasonable, as proposed in the amendment to the Constitution?

Yes, 21,006. No, 40,737.

Proclamation

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

Concord, March 27, 1923.

Be it known, that I, Fred H. Brown, Governor of the State of New Hampshire, in obedience to the request of the Constitutional Convention, held February 16, 1923, do hereby proclaim to the people of New Hampshire that the Constitution of the State is not amended, as proposed by said Convention, because the question covering the amendment submitted to vote of the people at the election, March 13, 1923, was not approved by the necessary two-thirds vote.

Given under my hand and the seal of the state, at the Council Chamber, this 27th day of March, 1923, and of the Independence of the United States of America, the one hundred and forty-seventh.

[SEAL]

FRED H. BROWN, Governor.

By the Governor,

Enos K. Sawyer, Secretary of State.

A detailed statement of the vote on the seven proposed amendments first submitted, and on the four proposed amendments in 1921, is given in the Legislative Manuals of 1921 and 1923. The vote of each town and ward on the amendment proposed in March, 1923, is given in the following tables:

First chosen to a seat in Congress in 1914, he has been re-elected consecutively since that time and is a member of the Committee on Appropriations of the National House.

Population of New Hampshire

Number of Inhabitants, by Counties and Minor Civil Divisions

TOTAL POPULATION, INCREASE, AND DISTRIBUTION

Population of the state.—New Hampshire was one of the original thirteen states. According to the Fourteenth Census, taken as of January 1, 1920, its population is 443,083, which represents an increase of 12,511, or 2.9 per cent, over the population in 1910. During the same period the population of the United States increased 14.9 per cent. The following summary shows the population of New Hampshire from 1790, the first Federal census, to 1920, inclusive, together with the number and per cent. of increase in each decade, in comparison with the per cent. of increase for the United States as a whole.

POPULATION OF NEW HAMPSHIRE: 1790 TO 1920

*A minus sign (—) denotes decrease.

Counties.—New Hampshire has 10 counties, 5 of which increased in population during the last decade, and 5 decreased. The largest percentage of decrease was in Carroll County—8 per cent. There have been no changes in county boundaries since 1910.

Density of population.—The total land area of the state in 1920 is 9,031 square miles and the average number of persons to the square mile is 49.1 (see Table 1); in 1910 and 1900 the averages were 47.7 and 45.6, respectively.

Minor civil divisions.—In New Hampshire the primary division of the county is the town or city, and in 1920 these number 224 and 11, respectively; but, in addition to the town or city, Carroll County has 1 location and Coos County has 3 locations, 10 grants, 7 townships, and 6 purchases, making the total number of primary divisions in the state 262. Besides these primary divisions, there are 2 secondary divisions, or incorporated villages which are not independent minor civil divisions, but form parts of the towns in which they are located (see Table 2).

Of the 262 primary divisions referred to above, 9 of those in Coos County have had no population returned at the last three censuses, and are not included in Table 2 in the minor civil divisions of the county.

Cities.—Manchester, the largest of the 11 cities of New Hampshire, has a population of 78,384 in 1920. Nashua, the next largest, has a population of 28,379 and Concord, the capital of the state, 22,167. (See Tables 3 and 4.)

The following summary shows, for each city having 10,000 inhabitants or more in 1920, the population at each census for which figures are available, together with the increase during each decade.

Urban and rural population.—The census Bureau defines urban population as that residing in cities and other incorporated places of 2,500 inhabitants or more. As New Hampshire has no incorporated villages of 2,500 or more and no city of less than 6,000 inhabitants, it has been considered advisable to include in the urban territory not only the population of the 11 cities of New Hampshire, but also that of all towns having over 2,500 inhabitants. This probably results in the “urban area” of New Hampshire including some population which in other states would be segregated as “rural,” but as this inclusion covers only 16 towns out of a total of 227, there is no reason to suppose that the proportion of urban population is greatly overstated.

Urban population in New Hampshire, being thus defined, the rural population, therefore, consists of the population outside of towns and cities having 2,500 inhabitants or more.

The following summary presents, for the last three censuses, the urban and rural population of the state distributed among cities and towns grouped according to specified limits of population. The classification is based upon the population of each place as it existed at each census. The percentage of the population of New Hampshire living in cities and towns of 2,500 or more at the three census periods was 63.1, 59.2 and 55, respectively, there being during each decade practically the same increase in the proportion of urban population.

World War Memorial

Chapter 140 of the Laws of 1919 provided for a memorial in the form of a roll of honor bearing the names of New Hampshire residents who died in the military, naval or auxiliary service of the United States, or any of the Allied Countries, during the World War, and directed the Governor and Executive Council to obtain the memorial.

Acting under this statute, Governor John H. Bartlett and the Council appointed a committee to invite designs of memorials and to select a suitable location in the state house or on the state house grounds and to report to the Governor and Council. The members of the committee were Councilor Arthur G. Whittemore of Dover, State Senator George H. Eames of Keene and Representative Frank H. Challis of Manchester.

Difficulty in obtaining a complete list of the names of New Hampshire residents who lost their lives in the various branches of the service and while serving in the armies of other nations than the United States caused delay in carrying out the project. The committee in a report to Governor Albert O. Brown and his Council on October 26, 1921, announced that after a study of numerous designs and estimates of the cost, they would recommend acceptance of the design of the John Polacheak Bronze and Iron Company and that the contract be awarded to that firm at a price of $4100. The committee also recommended that the memorial be placed in Doric Hall, at the then entrance to the general committee room and that a new entrance to the committee room be made.

The recommendations of the committee were approved by the Governor and Council. There were further delays, mainly owing to the necessity of adding newly reported names of residents who gave their lives in the war and the memorial was not finally placed until the fall of 1924. The tablet is made of cast bronze with marble and slate base, surmounted by a cast bronze wreath.

WORLD WAR MEMORIAL TABLET

Presidential Primary

A Presidential Primary was held March 11, 1924, the Republican and Democratic parties electing delegates to the National Conventions. Each party, as a result of action by their National Committees, sent delegations of increased membership. The Republicans had seven delegates-at-large, three more than New Hampshire hitherto had been entitled to, and the Democrats had eight delegates-at-large, four more than the usual number. Each party sent the customary two delegates from each district.

The additional Republican delegates-at-large were the state's quota based upon the vote for the Presidential electors in the preceding election, and the delegates had full votes. The Democrats, however, sent eight delegates, each entitled to one-half vote in the convention.

The Republicans had contests for delegates-at-large and for first district delegates. The Democrats had contests for district delegates in both districts. Those elected are indicated by asterisks.

Presidential Conventions

Three sets of Presidential electors appeared on the New Hampshire ballots used in the general election in November, 1924. The Democratic and Republican electors were named at State conventions held in September, and the "Progressive" electors were named on petitions filed with the Secretary of State, as provided by the election Laws.

REPUBLICAN NATIONAL CONVENTION

The Republican National Convention was held at Cleveland the second week in June, delegates and alternates elected at the Presidential Primary attending. Fred W. Estabrook was re-elected National Committeeman and State Chairman Dwight Hall was made Chairman of the Delegation.

The Convention nominated President Calvin Coolidge for President and Charles R. Dawes of Illinois for Vice-President. The Coolidge and Dawes electors named at the State convention were Mary L. C. Schofield of Peterborough, Annie B. Shepard of Derry, William Robinson Brown of Berlin and George A. Carpenter of Wolfeboro.

DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL CONVENTION

The Democratic National Convention was held at New York the fourth week in June, continuing into the first week in July. Robert C. Murchie was re-elected National Committeeman and State Chairman Robert Jackson was made Chairman of the Delegation.

John W. Davis of West Virginia was nominated for President and Governor Charles R. Bryan of Nebraska for Vice-President by the Convention. The Davis and Bryan Electors named at the State convention were Frances T. Bingham of Littleton, William O. Corbin of Manchester, Albert Wellington Noone of Peterborough, and Patrick H. Sullivan of Manchester.

"PROGRESSIVE" CONVENTION

A Convention of representatives of various minor Political Parties, Labor and other Organizations was held at Cleveland on July Fourth, at which Senator Robert M. LaFollette of Wisconsin was nominated for President and Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana was nominated for Vice-President.

Socialists in New Hampshire, who in previous Presidential elections had named tickets, joined with others in signing nomination petitions for LaFollette and Wheeler. The Presidential electors named were: Lela B. Sanborn of Laconia, Edgar D. Mank of Manchester, Fred E. Sawyer of Concord and Charles A. Wheeler of Nashua.

Direct Primary 1924

The direct primary election was held September 2, 1924, with candidates of the Democratic and Republican parties participating. The towns of Bridgewater and Wentworth's Location were the only ones where no votes were cast.

The returns are given in detail in the following tables. In the summary the full names and addresses of the candidates, with their total vote, is given. The other tables, carrying the vote in detail, give only the last name of the candidates.

The first table gives, by counties, the votes for governor, United States senator and representative in Congress of each party. The second table gives the votes for county officers. The third table gives the votes for councilors, by districts; and the fourth table the votes for state senators by districts.

PRIMARY RECOUNTS

Recounts of the vote in the primary for the Democratic candidates for Solicitor of Hillsborough County and Representatives in the town of Hudson and in two Manchester wards, were conducted by the Secretary of State.

The official returns of the election officials showed a majority of two for John S. Hurley for Hillsborough County Solicitor. The recount showed that Ferdinand Farley was the nominee by a plurality of twenty-three. The vote follows:

	Returns	Recount
Ferdinand Farley	1983	1993
John S. Hurley	1985	1970

For Representative, Republican, in Hudson, the vote was:

Rowland W. Abbott	112	112
Henry C. Brown	114	114
Charles C. Leslie	143	145
Harry J. Connell	6	6
Ida Gatz	21	24
Jessie G. Wentworth	1	1

This did not affect the result.

For Representative, Democratic, in ward 5, Manchester, the vote was:

James A. Broderick	241	238
Spyros Cateras	87	86
Michael J. Collins	217	216
Patrick J. Creighton	196	196
Andrew W. Harlan	241	234
Thomas J. Horan	217	220
John Jamroz	40	38
James J. Jennings	214	210
Frank P. Laughlin	239	238
Denis F. Mahoney	223	222
Michael J. McNulty	201	197
William J. Mulligan	163	163
Denis F. Quinn	216	216
Patrick Sheridan	138	138
John E. Tobin	193	195
Frederick A. Verville	93	88

This did not affect the result.

For Representative, Democratic, in ward 11, Manchester, the vote was:

Edward Burke	135	134
Edward A. Clear	144	145
Michael F. Cremen	164	163
George W. Gowitzke	80	79
John F. Joyce	140	140
Alex J. McDonnell	138	134
George E. Roukey	136	136

The inspection left Messrs. McDonnell and Burke in a tie for the fifth place on the ballot. The withdrawal of Mr. Clear after the recount made unnecessary the customary drawing by lot to decide the issue.

Republican Organization

The Republican state convention met at Concord, Thursday, September 18, 1924, with Norris H. Cotton of Warren as president, and adopted the following platform:

Platform of the Republican Party

This is presented as a result of conference with all parties interested.

The Republicans, in common with all others of the country, deplore the untimely death of President Harding under whose leadership the party won the most remarkable triumph in its history. But we rejoice that the leadership thus taken away fell into the capable hands of one well known to us as a neighbor and fellow Republican.

To Calvin Coolidge, the President that is and the President that is to be, and to Charles C. Dawes, our next Vice President, we pledge our unfaltering loyalty and united support.

We recognize that the task of reconstruction made necessary by the reaction following the great war, though well advanced, is by no means finished. Under the policies advocated by Calvin Coolidge we recognize the meanings for carrying these tasks to complete fulfillment, and we pledge ourselves to redeem this state from Democratic rule, to take back to ourselves the Congressional district now held by our opponents, to return a faithful Republican senator and congressmen in office, and to give to the President a governor and legislature in New Hampshire which will be responsive to his leadership.

We endorse the platform of the Republican party adopted by the national convention at Cleveland.

The Republican party pledges itself to the furtherance of the sound financial policies inaugurated under Republican administration, as a result of which the state debt has been reduced to a vanishing point.

We further pledge that the expenses of our government shall be placed and kept at the lowest mark consistent with a successful and efficient conduct of the business of the state.

New Hampshire supported prohibition prior to the adoption of the Federal amendment. The amendment was adopted after half a century of agitation. It undoubtedly represents the will of the majority of the people of the United States. We are opposed either to the modification or repeal of our state law or of the Volstead Act. We pledge the Republican party to a vigorous enforcement of these laws.

We favor an amendment of the law reducing the poll tax from three dollars to two dollars.

We pledge ourselves to support agriculture in all its branches to the end that the upbuilding of the rural communities of our state may be developed to their fullest extent, and we reaffirm the position taken by the Republican party in 1922 toward the elimination of tubercular disease in the dairy herds of the state, and recommend that adequate appropriation be made for the further prosecution of the work.

We endorse the excellent work which has been accomplished by the normal schools, and the university of our state, and we favor appropriations adequate to properly meet the requirements of the natural growth of these institutions.

We are opposed to any increase in the present tax burden of the towns or the state. In case additional authority is obtained by amendment of the Constitution, we urge the adoption of laws which will more justly distribute the tax burden between different classes of property. All changes which will have this effect will have our support.

We recommend to the legislature the beginning of a policy for developing water power, and storing it, either as recommended by the Conservation Commission, or in some other comprehensive way.

Our President, Calvin Coolidge, as governor of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts in 1919 signed a 48-hour bill designed to safeguard the vital interests of women and children engaged in manufacturing industries. Our candidate for governor, John G. Winant, introduced the first 48-hour bill presented to the New Hampshire legislature in 1917. We recommend the action of these men, who are the leaders of our party in nation and state, as we submit our cause to the judgment of the people and declare it to be in harmony with the spirit of the Republican national platform, which affirms its faith in the principles of the eight-hour day, and the protection of women and children employed in industry.

We commend the Republican Congress in submitting to the states for ratification the Federal Child Labor amendment, and we recommend it to the serious consideration of the legislature in 1925.

OFFICERS OF THE REPUBLICAN STATE COMMITTEE

Benjamin F. Worcester, Chairman.

DEMOCRATIC ORGANIZATION, 1924

The Democratic state convention met at Concord, Monday, September 29, 1924, with Raymond B. Stevens of Landaff as president, and adopted the following:

Democratic State Platform

We, the Democratic Party of New Hampshire, in convention assembled, proclaim these principles on which we stand before the people of this state, and to the support of which we pledge our every effort, whether it be as the party entrusted with the welfare of that people by their franchise, or as a constructive cooperating minority.

Endorse National Party and Candidates

We heartily endorse the platform of our party in the nation, believing it to embody those principles which are not alone conducive but essential to our national welfare. Its candidates we commend, and should they, as we believe they will, be given in trust the leadership of our country, we are assured of an honest and capable administration of that trust. We can truly say that the promises and pledges of our party in both state and nation have always been faithfully kept.

Points With Pride to War Record

The Democratic Party points with justifiable pride to the account of its stewardship of this nation's affairs from 1912 to 1920. In common with all good Americans, we blush with shame at the record of the past four years. We deplore the fact that it was necessary for the minority party to ferret out and expose the corruption in the executive family and that these efforts were not given the fullest cooperation from our nation's head, and that today, no offender has been brought to justice and never has the party charged with responsibility recognized the fact that a wrong has been done or a trust violated.

Condemns Pledge of Republicans

The pledges of the Republican Party have in the past proved mere phrases to catch the votes of the public. They have never been redeemable at par. Its policies have always led to the enrichment of the few at the expense of the many.

Advocate State 48-Hour Law

In order to secure equal opportunity and humane standards of employment, we favor a national law fixing the hours of labor and conditions of employment of women and children in industry. Such a law can only be secured after an amendment to the federal constitution. In the meantime, we do not propose to wait for the adoption of such an amendment before giving justice to our own women and children. Therefore, we advocate immediately the enactment of a law in this state fixing a 48-hour week for women and children in manufacturing plants.

Advocate Child Labor Amendment

We earnestly advocate the ratification by our legislature of the amendment to the federal constitution, giving congress the power to legislate against the enslaving of little children by unscrupulous employers of labor, and call attention to the fact that under the last National Democratic administration such legislation was enacted but declared unconstitutional by our Federal Supreme Court.

Endorse Davis Statement on Klan

We endorse and stand by the declaration of our standard bearer, John W. Davis, "if any organization, no matter whether called Ku Klux Klan or any other name, raises the standard of racial and religious prejudice or attempts to make racial origins or religious beliefs the test of fitness for public office, it does violence to the spirit of American institutions and must be condemned by all those who believe in American ideals."

Commend Tuberculosis Work

We commend the progress already made toward the elimination of bovine tuberculosis in the dairy herds of the state, and urge the Legislature of 1925 to provide an adequate appropriation for the prosecution of this highly important work.

Favor University Appropriation

We favor sufficient appropriation for the University of New Hampshire and the Agricultural Extension Service connected therewith to enable them to carry on the excellent work they are now doing.

Recommend Constitutional Convention

We recommend a new constitutional convention to submit an amendment which will permit the Legislature to equalize tax burdens.

Pledges Home Rule for Cities

We believe that the practice, generally adopted for partisan reasons, of depriving cities of the right of selecting their own officials is contrary to sound democratic principles and in the long run destructive to good government. We pledge ourselves to re-establish for the cities of New Hampshire genuine home rule.

Advocate Abolishment of Council

We advocate the abolition of the Governor's council and increasing the membership of the Senate, and basing the representation on population and not as now upon wealth.

Favor Strict Law Enforcement

We favor the strict enforcement of the 18th amendment of the Constitution of the United States.

Favor Abolishing Woman's Poll Tax

The Democratic party favors the abolition of the poll tax on women.

Favor Inheritance Tax Refund

The inheritance tax law of 1919 having been declared unconstitutional and the rights of those against whom the tax was illegally assessed having been proscribed, we advocate the enactment of legislation to repay to them the sums thus illegally assessed without sending them to the courts for redress.

Point to Administration Record

We present to the people of New Hampshire a record of two years' administration of the state government that speaks for itself. That alone is more than sufficient to justify the return of our party to power. For the first time in history the state of New Hampshire has no net debt, but instead a surplus of $700,000. At the same time the state tax has been reduced a million dollars. It is inconceivable that with such a record the electorate should desire a change based only on the equivocal promises of the party that failed in its many years of administration to approach the record on which we stand.

MEMORIAL BRIDGE AT PORTSMOUTH

Memorial Bridge at Portsmouth, N. H.

By act of the New Hampshire Legislature, approved March 27, 1919, the State of New Hampshire was authorized to join with the State of Maine and the United States Government for the joint construction of a memorial bridge over the Piscataqua River, and $500,000.00 was appropriated as New Hampshire's portion of the cost. The bridge to be known as a Memorial Bridge to the Sailors and Soldiers of the states of New Hampshire and Maine who participated in the World War.

Under this act a joint building commission consisting of the Secretary of the Navy, representing the United States, and the Governors of New Hampshire and Maine, to provide for the construction of the bridge. This commission appointed as a Board of Engineers, Ernest H. Brownell, representing the United States Government, Walter H. Norris, representing the State of Maine, and William A. Grover, representing the State of New Hampshire.

The Governor and Council of New Hampshire appointed a committee, consisting of Hon. Arthur G. Whittmore, of Dover, Chairman, Major Orville E. Cain of Keene, Major Reginald C. Stevenson of Exeter, Hon. William D. Swart of Nashua, and Captain Frederick R. Hoyt of Portsmouth, to select and place upon the New Hampshire end of the bridge a tablet which shall be a special memorial to the sailors and soldiers of the State of New Hampshire.

The contract for the construction of the bridge was signed in December, 1920, and the bridge was opened to public travel on August 17, 1923. The Memorial tablet was placed in position on August 4, 1924.

This bridge consists of three 300-foot spans or a total span length of 900 feet, while the distance from land to land measures 1,200 feet. The floor of the bridge is of reinforced concrete while the structure is designed to carry a load of a 50-ton electric car, a string of 20-ton trucks and a two-side work load of 82 pounds to a square foot. The center span is a vertical lift draw and when closed is used as a highway with 21 feet clearance over water, while with the opening of the draw at high tide there is a clearance of 150 feet. The draw is balanced by two concrete counter weights of 1,000,000 pounds each suspended by sixty-four wire cables. It is raised or lowered in the remarkably short time of three minutes by two 100-horsepower motors. The piers are anchoed on a bed of solid ock and at some places it was necessary to go to a depth of 82 feet at high water.

The structure is a splendid tribute to the Federal Government and the states of New Hampshire and Maine, constructed at an aggregate cost of approximately fifteen hundred thousand dollars and shared equally by the three parties.

Election November 4, 1924

The following is the result of the election. In the summary the full name and address of the candidate is given, in the tables only the last name and party. Political parties are designated by the first letters, "r" for Republican, "d" for Democrat, "p" for progressive, "r and d" for candidates appearing on both tickets and "ind" for all candidates filing nomination papers.

The order of the tables is as follows: 1, for president and vice president and governor; 2, for senator and representative in congress; 3, for councilor in five districts; 4, for senator in twenty-four districts; 5, for representatives to the general court; 6, for county officers.

VOTERS IN NEW HAMPSHIRE

The following tables give, by counties, the comparative figures for every town and ward, on number of voters and votes cast. The first column gives the population of the town, the second gives the number of legal voters at the time of the election November 4, 1924; the third gives the total number of votes cast at that election; the fourth gives the number of ballots required at future elections; the fifth gives the vote on the expediency of calling a constitutional convention.

The population totals are slightly less than the totals given in the 1920 census tables in a preceding chapter. This is accounted for by the population of unincorporated places.

The total vote figures are slightly in excess of the total vote cast for any office, as shown in the election returns. This is accounted for by the failure of a small percentage of voters to vote for all the offices.

ELECTION RECOUNTS

Eleven recounts were conducted by the Secretary of State following the general election. Ten of these were in contests for Representative, the other the contest for County Commissioners in Hillsborough County. There were numerous changes from the official returns by the election officials, but in only one instance was the standing of the candidates affected.

In Hebron the official figures gave John Wentworth a majority of eight and the inspection gave Roy Smith a majority of one vote.
